three years after american raceplanes failed dismally in the most important air race of 1920 a french magazine lamented that american pilots have broken the records which we here in france considered as our own for so long the pulitzer trophy air races 1920 through 1925 endowed by the sons of publisher joseph pulitzer in his memory brought about this remarkable turnaround pulitzer winning speeds increased from 157 to 249 mph and pulitzer racers mounted on floats twice won the most prestigious international air race the schneider trophy race for seaplanes airplanes engines propellers and other equipment developed for the pulitzers were sold domestically and internationally more than a million spectators saw the pulitzers millions more read about them and watched them in newsreels this the first book about the pulitzers tells the story of businessmen generals and admirals who saw racing as a way to drive aviation progress designers and manufacturers who produced record breaking racers and dashing pilots who gave the races their public face it emphasizes the roles played by the communities that hosted the races garden city long island omaha detroit and mt clemens michigan st louis and dayton the book concludes with an analysis of the pulitzers importance and why they have languished in obscurity for so long from abbott detroit to zip this unique reference book documents american gasoline powered automobiles manufactured for the model years 1906 through 1915 the brass era in these explosive early years of automotive history a vast number of manufacturers most of which failed within two years produced a range of cars whose sheer diversity is unmatched in later times the short corporate lifespans and constant change throughout the industry left a fragmented historical record with data about specific models scarce and scattered in later sources here the basic facts of 4 000 cars painstakingly researched in all available period sources are collected and trends of the era are analyzed
