from the foreword these authors have clearly shown the value in looking for the signature pedagogies of their disciplines nothing uncovers hidden assumptions about desired knowledge skills and dispositions better than a careful examination of our most cherished practices the authors inspire specialists in other disciplines to do the same furthermore they invite other colleagues to explore whether relatively new interdisciplinary fields such as women s studies and global studies have or should have a signature pedagogy consistent with their understanding of what it means to apprentice in these areas anthony a ciccone senior scholar and director carnegie academy for the scholarship of teaching and learning how do individual disciplines foster deep learning and get students to think like disciplinary experts with contributions from the sciences humanities and the arts this book critically explores how to best foster student learning within and across the disciplines this book represents a major advance in the scholarship of teaching and learning sotl by moving beyond individual case studies best practices and the work of individual scholars to focus on the unique content and characteristic pedagogies of major disciplines each chapter begins by summarizing the social literature on the pedagogies of a specific discipline and by examining and analyzing its traditional practices paying particular attention to how faculty evaluate success each concludes by articulating for its discipline the elements of a signature pedagogy that will improve teaching and learning and by offering an agenda for future research each chapter explores what the pedagogical literature of the discipline suggests are the optimal ways to teach material in that field and to verify the resulting learning each author is concerned about how to engage students in the ways of knowing the habits of mind and the values used by experts in his or her field readers will not only benefit from the chapters most relevant to their disciplines as faculty members consider how their courses fit into the broader curriculum and relate to the other disciplines and design learning activities and goals not only within the discipline but also within the broader objectives of liberal education they will appreciate the cross disciplinary understandings this book affords the meeting between the christian faith and the igbo people's ancestral tradition in achebe's novels appears as a confrontation between two different religious systems and views christianity with its dogmatic claim to announce the absolute truth and igbo religion with no claim to the absoluteness of its truths achebe's portrayal of the two religions is compared with igbo ethnography and recent history in order to show that his picture of his people's religion and its encounter with christianity is authentic with nearly 6 000 quotations arranged historically and annotated extensively you'll know not just who said what but get the full story behind the quote follow any of the more than five hundred topics from abolition to zeal and you will get a nutshell history of what great and not so great americans had to say about each one quotations are arranged chronologically in each topic allowing the reader to trace patterns of thought over time
