after studying to become a therapist and crisis intervention counselor even doing her master s thesis on the stages of bereavement christina rasmussen thought she understood grief but it wasn't until losing her husband to cancer in her early 30s that she truly grasped the depths of sorrow and pain that accompany loss using the knowledge she gained while wading through her own grief and reading hundreds of neuroscience books rasmussen began to look at experiences in a new way she realized that grief plunges you into a gap between worlds the world before loss and the world after loss she also realized how easy it is to become lost in this gap in second firsts rasmussen walks you through her life reentry process to help you break grief's spiral of pain so you can stop simply surviving and begin to live again she shows you that loss can actually be a powerful catalyst to creating a life that is in alignment with your true passions and values the resilience strength and determination that have gotten you through this difficult time are the same characteristics that will help you craft your wonderful new life her method which she has used successfully with thousands of clients is based on the science of neuroplasticity and focuses on consciously releasing pain in ways that both honor suffering and rewire the brain to change your perception of the world and yourself using practical exercises and stories drawn from her own life and those of her clients rasmussen guides you through five stages of healing that help you open up to new possibilities from acknowledging your fear to recognizing where you stand now to taking active steps toward a new life rasmussen helps you move past the pain and shows that it's never too late to step out of the gap and experience life again as if for the first time many people grapple with destructive thought processes or a critical inner voice that directs their behavior and to varying degrees limits their lives using deeply personal and very human stories based on his own clinical practice noted psychologist robert w firestone illustrates the struggles of his clients to give words to this enemy within and in the process overcome its damaging influence these revealing and captivating stories offer glimpses into the uniquely human relationship that develops in the therapeutic encounter and demonstrate the powerful impact that the experience has on both client and therapist dr firestone is the originator of a therapeutic method called voice therapy by which clients learn to identify the language of the defense system and eventually separate their own point of view from its harmful effects each story provides an intimate look into one person's life illuminates aspects of his or her dark side and highlights an important insight into the therapeutic process this sensitively written book will evoke emotional responses in readers and inspire them to take action to challenge the dictates of their own inner critic taken together these stories underscore the distinctive merits and continuing relevance of the therapeutic process especially in our distracted technological world increasingly detached from feeling from a pioneer in the field of mental health comes a groundbreaking book on the healing power of mindsight the potent skill that allows you to make positive changes in your brain and in your life foreword by daniel goleman author of emotional intelligence is there a memory that torments you or an irrational fear you can't shake do you sometimes become unreasonably angry or upset and find it hard to calm down do you ever wonder why you can't stop behaving the way you do no matter how hard you try are you and your child or parent partner or boss locked in a seemingly inevitable pattern of conflict what if you could escape traps like these and live a fuller richer happier life this isn't mere speculation but the result of twenty five years of careful hands on clinical work by daniel j siegel md a harvard trained physician dr siegel is one of the revolutionary global innovators in the integration of brain science into the practice of psychotherapy using case histories from his practice he shows how by following the proper steps nearly everyone can learn how to focus their attention on the internal world of the mind in a way that will literally change the wiring and architecture of their brain through his synthesis of a broad range of scientific research with applications to everyday life dr siegel has developed novel approaches that have helped hundreds of patients and now he has written the first book that will help all of us understand the potential we have to create our own lives showing us mindsight in action dr siegel describes a sixteen year old boy with bipolar disorder who uses meditation and other techniques instead of drugs to calm the emotional storms that made him suicidal a woman paralyzed by anxiety who uses mindsight to discover in an unconscious memory of a childhood accident the source of her dread a physician the author himself who pays attention to his intuition which he experiences as a vague uneasy feeling in my belly a gnawing restlessness in my heart and my gut and tracks down a patient who could have gone deaf because of an inaccurately written prescription for an ear infection a twelve year old girl with ocd who learns a meditation that is like watching myself from outside myself and using a form of internal dialogue is able to stop the compulsive behaviors that have been tormenting her these and many other extraordinary stories illustrate how mindsight can help us master our emotions heal our relationships and reach our fullest potential
