the book offers an innovative approach to the study of Ernest Hemingway's fiction and biography. It juxtaposes two perspectives that have been underrepresented in Hemingway studies so far: translation and interview. The book is divided into three sections which mirror the key words in the title: interview and translation section, one explores the last interviews with Hemingway in their historical context of the cold war section two focuses on the achievement of bronisław zieliński hemingway's polish translator and friend who is hardly known outside poland the section gives a detailed account of their correspondence in the years 1958 1961 section three is an account of experiments in translating hemingway's famous story cat in the rain 1925 by groups of polish university students its aim is to illustrate the extent to which literary translation may influence the construction of the text's meaning this edited book explores languages and cultures or linguacultures from a translation perspective resting on the assumption that they find expression as linguacultural worldviews specifically it investigates how these worldviews emerge how they are constructed shaped and modified in and through translation understood both as a process and a product the book's content progresses from general to specific from the notions of worldview and translation through a consideration of how worldviews are shaped in and through language to a discussion of worldviews in translation both in macro scale and in specific details of language structure and use the contributors to the volume are linguists linguistic anthropologists practising translators and or translation studies scholars and the book will be of interest to scholars and students in any of these fields this book explores how language is used to create division and discrimination in diverse european societies by emphasizing differences in ethnicity race national identity beliefs or appearance the authors analyze how public discourse particularly in political and media narratives shapes and reinforces an us vs them mindset they examine words and expressions that denigrate or marginalize specific groups in polish german czech slovak and croatian and observe how certain communities are also reclaiming terms that were once hurtful the analyses of linguistic strategies employed in the process of othering demonstrate that the concept of othering can be effectively applied to linguistic data contributors are dagmara banasiak marta chojnacka kuraś marta falkowska jadranka gvozdanović milena hebal jezierska agnieszka karlińska anna kołos marie kopřivová marek Łaziński jadwiga linde usiekiewicz agnieszka mikolajczuk iva petrak jíří rejzek lucie saicová límalová Łukasz wnuł and magdalena zawiślawska
