trade technology and economics represents a careful selection of papers from some of the world's most influential economists of today reflecting areas in which Richard Lipsey has made fundamental contributions. This important volume pays tribute to Richard Lipsey who has established a major international reputation through his wide ranging contribution to economics focusing on certain aspects of his work. The issues explored within the volume include the theory of second best, unemployment, inflation and the Phillips curve, trade theory, customs unions and the growth of the global economy, strategic behaviour in an exchange economy, competition and strategic choice of technology to support collusive oligopoly equilibria and property rights and technology. This collection of outstanding papers written by a distinguished group of scholars including Mark Blaug, Richard G. Harris, Kelvin Lancaster, David Card, David Laidler, R. J. Wonnacott and Michael Parkin reflects the high esteem in which Richard Lipsey is held.

An introductory textbook based on the premises that economics is a science is useful in everyday life and is sometimes difficult but never impossible to learn. The latest edition accounts for the globalization of the economy, the triumph of market capitalism and the declining growth of market economics. Mathematics beyond the most elementary is confined to an appendix. A teacher's manual, test banks and supporting software for both teachers and students are available.
