this 2009 book presents a comprehensive theory of a culpability based criminal law this volume presents a comparative examination of the issue of fault in criminal law extant law reveals significant problems in adoption of consistent approaches to doctrinal and theoretical underpinnings of fault liability and culpability thresholds in criminal law this has been exemplified by a plethora of recent jurisprudential authorities revealing varying degrees of confusion and vacillation this collection focuses on fault liability for inculcation with contributions from leading specialists from different jurisdictions presenting alternative perspectives the book addresses three specific elements within the arena of fault embracing an overarching synergy between them this structure facilitates an examination of uk provisions with specialist contributions on domestic law and in contrasting these provisions against alternative domestic jurisdictions as well as comparative contributions addressing a particularised research grid for content the comparative chapters provide a wider background of how other legal systems treat a variety of specialised issues relating to fault elements in the context of the criminal law with contributions from leading experts in the field the book will be an invaluable resource for researchers academics and practitioners working in this area this volume is a new chapter in the future history of law its general perspective could not be more original and its critical ethical edge on the state of international law could not be timelier it explores a compassionate philosophical approach to the genuine substance of law criminal procedure international criminal law and international criminal justice it divides law into three interrelated disciplines i e legality morality and love the norm love is derived from human reason for man s advancement and the securing of natural law it is more than a mere mandatory norm its goal is to generate a normative and positive powerful result therefore avoiding any impurity that may exist in the application of other norms because of political or juridical pressures a one eyed justice the norm love also renders justice with the principles of legal accountability transparency and the high moral authentic values of humanity the notion of justice cannot be trusted in the absence of the norm love the volume indicates the conditions of its efficiency by proving the reasons for its existence in the context of fairness objectivity and concern for all individuals and entities the concept of the norm love should be the core academic corpus for lecturing law in all faculties of law it is simply the enlightenment of the 21st century a lawyer with requisite knowledge and skill is not a lawyer if he cannot understand that the law does not need a lawyer with ethical competence in its provisions for income purposes but one with knowledge of its essence for the advanced morality of justice and the sheer essence of love for justice criminal law is written with the needs of the student foremost in mind to provide more than ever as modern and as comprehensive an exposition of the criminal law as he or she could possibly require
