despite its current dominant status economic growth emerged as a field of study and as a political objective only after the second world war this book provides an alternative perspective to the anglo centric historical analysis of growth by turning the focus on finland and other nordic countries from the late 19th century until the second world war moreover it provides a conceptual history perspective to how economic growth can be examined before the emergence of economic growth as a concept this book places finland in the context of emerging nation states of the early 20th century europe and constructs five competing growth conceptions classical liberal agrarian conservative social liberal social democratic and communist with a methodology derived from conceptual history this book presents a framework to study economic growth in the context of nationalism it showcases how ideas related to growth have not been synonymous with capitalism but rather they have been connected to state building and to comparison of economic systems the findings of the book highlight the interwar period as a key turning point in historical analysis of growth this book provides a fresh and a thought provoking account that will be of interest to students and scholars of economic history history of ideas development studies and degrowth and history of capitalism art and the historical film provides an important examination of fine art s impact on filmmaking grappling with the question of authenticity from eugene delacroix s interpretation of the 1830 french revolution to uli edel s version of the baader meinhof gang artistic representations of historical subjects are appealing and pervasive movies often adapt imagery from art history including paintings of historical events films and art shape the past for us and continue to affect our interpretation of history while historical films are often argued over for their adherence to the facts their real problem is realism how can the past be convincingly depicted realism in the historical film genre is often nourished and given credibility by its use of painterly references this book examines how art historical images affect historical films by going beyond period detail and surface design to look at how profound ideas about history are communicated through pictures art and the historical film between realism and the sublime is based on case studies that explore the links between art and cinema including american independent western meek s cutoff kelly reichardt 2010 british heritage film belle amma asante 2013 and dutch national epic admiral roel reiné 2014 the chapters create immersive worlds that communicate distinct ideas about the past through cinematography production design and direction as the films adapt reference and transpose paintings by artists such as rubens albert bierstadt and jacques louis david
