besides her natural beauty the scenery and the climate and her abundant wildlife and natural resources africa is probably best known as the homeland of hundreds of millions of people who live in abject poverty millions are wracked by disease and blinded by ignorance and just as many go hungry every day but there is something else which also distinguishes africa lack of unity among her people that is one of the main reasons why they were conquered by foreigners and why africa is still weak and poor today there is no other continent which is endowed with so much in terms of natural resources but there is also no other continent where it has been so easy for foreigners to take what does not belong to them this book began as a self examination of the african personality in an attempt to understand africa s place in the world especially in relation to the west africa and the west presents a fascinating array of primary sources to engage readers in the history of africa s long and troubled relationship with the west many of the sources have not previously appeared in print or in books readily available to students volume 1 covers two major topics the atlantic slave trade and the european conquest it details the beginnings of the slave trade slavery as a business the experiences of slaves and the effect of abolitionism on the trade using such documents as a letter from a sixteenth century african king to the king of portugal calling for a more regulated slave trade and the nineteenth century testimony of a south african slave accused of treason the volume also covers the early nineteenth century considerations of the costs and benefits of colonization the development of conquest as the century progressed with special attention to technology legislation empire religion racism and violence through such unusual documents as cecil most histories seek to understand modern africa as a troubled outcome of nineteenth century european colonialism but that is only a small part of the story in this celebrated book beautifully translated from the french edition the history of africa in the nineteenth century unfolds from the perspective of africans themselves rather than the european powers it was above all a time of tremendous internal change on the african continent great jihads of muslim conquest and conversion swept over west africa in the interior warlords competed to control the internal slave trade in the east the sultanate of zanzibar extended its reach via coastal and interior trade routes in the north egypt began to modernize while algeria was colonized in the south a series of forced migrations accelerated spurred by the progression of white settlement through much of the century african societies assimilated and adapted to the changes generated by these diverse forces in the end the west s technological advantage prevailed and most of africa fell under european control and lost its independence yet only by taking into account the rich complexity of this tumultuous past can we fully understand modern africa from the colonial period to independence and the difficulties of today
