in the sides of the sea caribbean women writing diaspora johanna x k garvey examines the works of contemporary writers from eight caribbean countries including haiti trinidad and tobago and the dominican republic authors from anglophone francophone and spanish speaking countries illustrate experiences across the african diaspora including enslavement colonialism revolt marronage and decolonization characters in fiction and poetry by such writers as erna brodber jan j dominique mayra santos febres tessa mcwatt and dionne brand confront trauma engage in struggle forge connection and act as agents of change complicating categories of identification and employing multiple strategies of resistance these caribbean women writers show us paths out of and beyond the binaries embedded in colonialism and its aftermath as their texts remember moments and sites of trauma beginning with the middle passage they embark on new passages claim oceanic spaces and suggest directions that stretch beyond the black atlantic to a more complex understanding of how to pull the sides of the sea together in the twenty first century the sides of the sea is organized in three sections plumbing the depths which examines representations of the middle passage and its legacies voicing the wounds which explores genealogies inherited trauma and potential healing unsettling borders which discusses decolonial epistemologies transgressive sexualities and new visions of citizenship compelling insights into the role of emotional sensitivity born into the flaming trenches of a true spiritual hell lacey hart spends her impoverished childhood lost in the strange shadow world between heaven and the demonic underworld in her senses she uses religion to mold herself into the perfect daughter so that she might evade her disturbed mother s malevolence lacey is a demure child whose primrose sweetness and white laced stoicism hearken back to the puritanical era times when bewitchment infiltrated even the purest breath of beauty in school she is an idiot savant and she believes herself to be haunted by the devil but outside the physical emotional and sexual torture chamber of her home lacey rarely ruffles feathers then she turns eighteen her sexuality which she has always felt had its roots in evil blooms like an overripe fruit from the center of her soul around the same time lacey and her best friend sabrina uncover the gift that has both defined and isolated them all their lives intuition emerging from the cocoon of their silence into awareness the two friends find themselves also immersed in the dark side of magic it is on this spiritual cusp between heaven and hell that they experience the heights of ecstasy but drift inevitably toward the dredges of humanity on the outskirts of life like twinned flames lacey and sabrina embark upon the bohemian magical mystery tour of their twenties with the quixotic candor and unexpected bravery of the truly eccentric then grave illness strikes unplanned pregnancy arises and they learn the power of true love to bloom one s spirit into the oneness with all things that is true freedom the story of two women who dare to submerge themselves completely into any given moment lily whites of steel is a fearless exploration of the thin line between freedom and destruction dogma and authentic mysticism and perhaps most hauntingly of all truth and madness in a city park a woman meets an abandoned amber eyed boxer who follows her home they spend a honeymoon year discovering each other s idiosyncrasies morning dog or evening dog then life settles into routine and the freewheeling woman realizes that she and her bilingual comedian of a dog are happily stuck with each other for better or worse in this witty tender memoir louise bernikow charts a love story across eight years as she and libro take manhattan by storm they revel in the perks of the media spotlight spend a hilarious summer in the hamptons and volunteer for pet therapy after 9 11 where libro gets treats and louise gets kicked out for poor behavior with wisecracking waggishness this story about an urban dreamboat who rescues the woman who rescued him will touch the heart booklist man and the liver describes the development of man s thinking about the role of the liver from early times to the present it considers both culinary and religious uses of the liver and describes the author s contacts with distinguished scientists who have shaped his thinking the book discusses many aspects of normal liver structure and function and how these are affected when diseased it is written to provide scientific information not as a textbook but many sections could be used by those studying this field the topics covered including some mathematics can be followed by anyone who has studied science at senior school level it will appeal to readers interested in human biology and covers science medicine history hepatology and gastroenterology man and the liver is an interesting and unusual hybrid of these subjects and the personalities involved author robert is currently emeritus professor of medicine at the university of london
