australia and the great war explores both the immediate and long term consequences of the war on this complex relationship looking in particular at identity history gender propaganda economics and nationalism this multidisciplinary collection of essays unveils the creation and subsequent mis use of histories and mythologies while considering the necessity and nature of both remembering and forgetting war

raise a glass for an anzac run for an anzac camp under the stars for an anzac is there anything australians won t do to keep the anzac legend at the centre of our national story but standing firm on the other side of the anzac enthusiasts is a chorus of critics claiming that the appetite for anzac is militarising our history and indoctrinating our children so how are we to make sense of this struggle over how we remember the great war anzac the unauthorised biography cuts through the clamour to provide a much needed historical perspective on the battle over anzac it traces how since 1915 australia s memory of the great war has declined and surged reflecting the varied and complex history of the australian nation itself most importantly it asks why so many australians persist with the fiction that the nation was born on 25 april 1915
